Helena, Oct. 7, 1887.

I was suffering from an unusually bad cough, my lungs were sore and congested, and I consulted one of the best physicians in Helena, whose prescriptions failed to rileve me. I became alarmed, and at the suggestion of a friend purchased a bottle of Acker's English Remedy for coughs, and after taking it according to directions was completely cured. I therefore cheerfully recommend it.

I had a racking cough, and a racking cough.

They had met a few times at church and parties, but on the day of the elopement they met by chance in the street, and Harry declared his love then and there. An hour later they were on their way to New York, where they got married and were back in this city before dark. Being a married woman, Mrs. Pardee thought it beneath her dignity to attend school, and in her refusal to do so the fact of her marriage became known.

Living but a short distance from Neillie was Miss Georgie Cook, who is now Mrs. Samuel Parker. This couple were united in marriage by Rev. C. C. Camp, of All Saints Episcopal mission three or foor weeks ago, but the marriage was not generally known until recently. Miss Cook lived with her married sister, Mrs. Nott, in Ellingsworth avenue, who objected to the attention Parker paid her sister.
